

Subsidised Long Term Care Services for the Elderly

1

When should I raise the application for Subsidised Long Term Care (LTC) Services?

I am living alone with chronic illnesses and poor mobility. I need to attend medical appointments in someone's company. Any care services are suitable for me?

My wife has dementia and easily gets lost. She is unable to manage her daily living on her own. No one can help me take care of her. I am so worried.....

2

My father had a stroke recently. He has to use a wheelchair now and gets a poor memory. As I have to work away from home in daytime, can anyone help take care of him?

Don't worry. You can raise a request for subsidised LTC services to a responsible/referring worker of an Integrated Family Service Centre/ Integrated Service Centre, a Medical Social Services Unit, or an elderly service unit in the district.

What kind of Subsidised LTC Services are available?

Subsidised LTC services can be classified into Residential Care Services and Community Care Services:

Residential Care Services (i.e. Care and Attention Home and Nursing Home) :

These are suitable for elderly persons who cannot be adequately taken care of at home for reasons of health, lack of support, etc. Appropriate type of residential care services will be recommended for you by the assessment results based on your care needs.

Community Care Services :

Elderly persons, who are assessed to be suitable for Community Care Services, can attend Day Care Centres/ Units for the Elderly in the neighbourhood for care services, or stay at home and receive home-based personal care services delivered by Integrated Home Care Services Team (Frail Cases) or Enhanced Home and Community Care Services Team, e.g. bathing, rehabilitation exercise, medication management, escort services, meal delivery, etc.

How to apply for Subsidised LTC Services?

At the time of application, the responsible/referring worker will arrange Standardised Care Need Assessment for you. Your health condition, living environment and support network will be assessed thoroughly by an accredited assessor through home visit and interview.

- If the assessment result recommends that you have long term care needs, the responsible/referring worker will work out a care plan and apply for suitable subsidised LTC services for you.
- The assessment for application for subsidised LTC services is free of charge.

Other Service Needs

If in need of services other than long term care services, i.e. Community Support Services (e.g. District Elderly Community Centre, Neighbourhood Elderly Centre), Home Support Services (e.g. Integrated Home Care Services (Ordinary Cases)), or Temporary Day/Residential Respite Service for Elderly Persons, you can directly approach the service providers or make requests for the services through the responsible/referring worker.
